Editorial Policy

Health content

Information contained within this web site that has the explicit purpose of providing information to an intended audience. It can be in the form of marketing materials - handbooks, brochures, flyers, newsletters – or web pages and web tools. The primary intended audiences are beneficiaries and Humana Veterans network and non-network providers. Information contained within this web site is general in nature and is intended for educational purposes only. This information is not intended to replace the advice of health care professionals.

The author is often the subject matter expert requesting that the information appear on the web site. If the content is health-related and written by the author, he or she must be a qualified healthcare professional. The content must include the author's name and date of review/update. If the content is not written by the author it must clearly site the author or source and date of review/update.

Users of the Humana Veterans web site cannot interact with a health care professional via the Humana Veterans web site.

The web site content will be reviewed yearly to update information that has changed. The marketing department staff has the responsibility to update this information. Pages will be date stamped so that there is a clear indication of when the page was created or last updated.

Where the site offers any personal health management tools, the source will be disclosed as well as a disclaimer that the information produced by the tool is not intended to replace the evaluation of a health care professional.

Conflict of interest policy for authors

Humana Veterans is dedicated to bringing you accurate, quality content on this site. Outside business relationships will not be allowed to jeopardize the objectiveness of data or content on this site. Humana Veterans associates must avoid financial or other interests that may be perceived as having an influence on the integrity of site content. Content is reviewed and approved by several individuals prior to publication.

Humana Veterans associates are required upon hire and annually thereafter, to complete a Conflict of Interest Disclosure and Agreement disclosing any activity which may constitute a conflict of interest with Humana Veterans. Any activity of interest that is questionable should be disclosed. Approval will be granted to engage in those activities which, in the view of company management do not create a conflict of interest. This includes outside employment and other outside activities.

False or misleading claims

Humana Veterans will not knowingly post or publish health content for the web that contains false or misleading claims or promotes ineffective or dangerous products.

Advertising/Promotion Policy

Humana Veterans does not accept any form of outside advertising or promotion on our company web site. Within the Humana Veterans web site you may find links to external non-Humana Veterans web sites. These links are available to provide the web site user with additional information and services. These links are clearly labeled. Humana Veterans is not responsible for the advertising policies of these other web sites.

Links

The web site provides links to various external web sites for information that is interesting/relevant/informative. This information is intended to be viewed as an additional resource. In general, the information from the external sites is provided via links rather than duplicated on the Humana Veterans web site since Humana Veterans neither owns nor has the authority to update the information.

These various links from this site are provided for the user's convenience only and do not constitute or imply endorsement by Humana Veterans of these sites, any products or services described on these sites, or of any other material contained therein. Humana Veterans assumes no responsibility for their content and accuracy. Links are checked regularly (all sections of the site are reviewed at least annually) for their continued functionality. If you do find that a link isn't functioning properly or is taking you to an incorrect location on the web, please call 1-800-444-5445 to report the problem. You will be contacted within two business days of the date of your call.

Minors

We are committed to protecting the privacy of children. The Humana Veterans web site is not intended for use by minors. You must be an individual 18 years of age or older to use this web site.

Changes to This Agreement

Humana Veterans may change the terms of this user agreement and will provide notice if terms of agreement are changed. By continuing to use the web site after we post any such changes, you accept the user agreement as modified.
